Start building a strong financial future! Join Part 1 of the OAR's Financial Planning Through the Radiologist Career Lifecycle series for practical advice tailored to your stage of training and career.

The early stages of a radiologist’s career are an important time to establish a strong financial foundation. As you transition from residency or fellowship into practice, decisions around incorporation, debt management, investing and insurance can have a lasting impact on your financial future. Join Ron Haik of Nicola Wealth and Efe Dada of Levine Financial Group for a practical, one-hour session designed specifically for residents, fellows and early-career radiologists. Gain valuable insights into navigating these important financial decisions, avoiding common pitfalls and building long-term financial security for yourself and your family.
